

Business Incubators:

Northern Colorado Food Incubator (NCFI)

The Northern Colorado Food Incubator (NCFI) is dedicated to fostering a healthy local food system and supporting food-related businesses. If you are starting a food business in Fort Collins or the region -- a farm, a catering firm, a company selling anything from salsa to exotic herbs, or technology related to the food industry -- NCFI is dedicated to providing support, guidance and assistance.

The Business Incubator Center serves a mission to accelerate the successful development businesses from start-up, through the growth stages, and on. The Incubator Center offers business owners, or those who are considering starting a small business, free individual consultations, low cost workshops, sources of needed working capital, and even office or manufacturing space.
